Volunteer-powered service. Education, health and dignity for all.

WHO WE ARE

Founded in the United States in 2008, VT Seva is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization driven by volunteers. It works alongside Vikasa Tarangini, its sister organization established in India in 1992, within a broader international service network. VT Seva supports marginalized communities through education, preventive healthcare, disaster response, youth leadership and local community service.

VT Seva seeks to empower underprivileged and visually impaired children through education and comprehensive care; improve women's health through cervical and breast cancer screening and wellness programs; and serve communities affected by natural disasters without distinction of race or religion. Its vision is access to education, healthcare and empowerment with dignity and self-respect.
